Art Unit: 1746

1. Upon further consideration, the restriction requirement of November 17, 2006 is hereby withdrawn, with an action on the merits of claims 1-43 following.

2. As per 37 CFR 1.126, claims 44 and 45, have been renumbered as claims 42 and 43.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 9, 11, 14-23, 27, 28, 30, 32-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Lee et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 5,657,650).

Re claims 1, 20 and 36, Lee is cited disclosing a fluid-dispenser device for a washing machine having a wash (230) basket movable about an axis and defining radii extending in a horizontal plane relative to a circumference in correspondence with respect to said wash basket, the device comprising:

at least two outlet ports (162, see fig. 4) positioned to direct respective jets of fluid into the wash basket, each of the jets having a distinctive exit angle (see col. 3, lines 50-54) relative to a respective radius in said horizontal plane and passing through the respective outlet ports and at least two ports positioned to direct respective jets of fluid into a wash basket, each of the jets having a generally parallel relationship with respect to one another. Also note the distinctive exit velocity (see col. 5, lines 15-19 “strongly” and lines 28-34, the fluid is “compressed”, i.e. pressurized). As for the

controller being "configured", MPEP 2114 MANNER OF OPERATING THE DEVICE

DOES NOT DIFFERENTIATE APPARATUS CLAIM FROM THE PRIOR ART

A claim containing a " recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus" if the prior art apparatus teaches all the structural limitations of the claim. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1987) (The preamble of claim 1 recited that the apparatus was " for mixing flowing developer material" and the body of the claim recited " means for mixing ..., said mixing means being stationary and completely submerged in the developer material" . The claim was rejected over a reference which taught all the structural limitations of the claim for the intended use of mixing flowing developer. However, the mixer was only partially submerged in the developer material. The Board held that the amount of submersion is immaterial to the structure of the mixer and thus the claim was properly rejected.).

Therefore since Lee discloses a controller/microprocessor (col. 6, line 18), the same is cable of being configured in many possible control scenarios.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4-6, 10, 12, 13, 24-26, 28, 29 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 6,657,650) in view of Borzell et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 2,565,798), Kendig (U. S. Pat. No. 1,832,560) or Van Dornick (U. S. Pat. No. 2,635,447).

Claims 4-6 and 24-26 define over Lee only in the recitation of outlet ports as claimed.

Borzell, Van Dornick and Kendig disclose the set of outlets. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the arrangement of Lee, to be as taught by Borzell, Van Dornick and Kendig, for the purpose of providing water to the wash basket in an expedient manner and to thoroughly wet the laundry. Re claim 12, Lee inherently discloses the different fluids (hot and cold water). Re claims 13 and 29, Kendig and Borzell disclose the different points. Re claims 10 and 31, Van Dornick and Kendig disclose the branch network. Re claim 28, Van Dornick discloses the segments.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In Lee'018, Kim, Chayie, Fish et al., Lee'677, Demarco, McCausland, Candor, Tubman et al., Geldhof, Urban and Kahn, note the fluid dispensers.
